

Heritage Words

The 5-minute paper test

Cut out the 20 cards. Sit somewhere comfy with your child.
You don't need to teach anything — you're just watching what happens.

1

Lay out three cards

Place any three cards face-up between you.

2

Say one word out loud

In Chinese — e.g. “shuǐ!” (water). Warmly, like normal.

3

Let them point

Right or wrong, celebrate, swap a card, go again.

What you're really looking for

- Not whether they get it “right” — whether they lean in.
- Curious, guessing, asking to keep going = the green light.
- Drifting off fast is useful data too: the idea may need a different shape.

No score, no pressure, no “wrong.” Under five minutes, end on a high.
